

Data Analysis - Making Sense of a Digital World
Ira Assent, lektor ved Institut for Datalogi

Machine Learning, Artificial Intelligence, Data Mining, Big Data: Data Analysis is everywhere. This talk presents Data Analysis as a means for extracting information from the tremendous amounts of data generated in social networks, online shops, mobile apps, scientific experiments and many more. I will show some examples of the types of analysis we can do and provide a glimpse of how they shape some of our current research questions.
